The University of Arizona
EVERYWHERE YOU ARE

The following handbook outlines admissions, academics, billing and other details for our Global Campus Partnership. If you have any questions about the information provided below, please contact us. We are happy to answer any questions you may have. We are here to help!

Admissions Overview

• Students apply directly to the University of Arizona (UA). Both UA and partner university recruit students to the program.

• UA collects information from interested students through a request for information form ("RFI form") posted on partner website. Leads from this form go to International Admissions at UA. Partner RFI forms are provided by our office and saved in Box for your convenience. Refer to sample RFI form, attached.

• Student information from RFI forms is entered into SLATE (CRM) and reports are generated weekly. These reports will be forwarded to partners. UA enrollment counselors connect with these students and guide them through our different programs, requirements, and admission processes. Partners may also contact prospective students from this list and provide guidance as well.

• UA enrollment counselors will work with students to complete their applications. Partners should be familiar with the application and required documents and be prepared to support students as needed.

• Partner admission counselors should be familiar with UA enrollment counselors and may work together to assist students.

Academics

Please note that American universities differ from many universities around the world in course requirements. Our curriculum is not 100% prescribed; rather, different programs have mandatory courses but also give students some options, or "elective courses".

Deadline to pay tuition for all units registered between August 20th and October 21st: October 26, 2020

Course Materials

Students are responsible for purchasing assigned course materials. Once students are enrolled in their courses, students will be able to access their required textbooks. Textbooks and/or materials can cost up to $500 USD per semester.

Tuition Payment Plan

Students can pay tuition in 3 smaller payments. All amounts are in USD. Please see details about payment plans at https://bursar.arizona.edu/payment/plan

Making Tuition Payments

Students will be able to make international payments using a payment system called FlyWire. Global student success coaches will help students and parents use this system. Instructions are forthcoming.

Online Learning

How do online classes work?

University of Arizona online courses are offered asynchronously. This means that students can study at their own pace. Lectures are available to watch, and re-watch, at any time. Courses take place on our online learning platform called D2L.

Online courses encourage collaboration and community by making it easy for learners to connect, participate in forums and discussions, and interact with their professors and peers.

Professors provide timely and personalized in-the-moment feedback to encourage engagement and retention.

What does an online classroom look like?

Please visit the D2L Student Resource page to get an idea of the content in an online classroom.

How to access an online classroom?
